

Midweek Message

TWENTY FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

Sunday, November 10th at 9:30 a.m.

Join us in person or via livestream on our Facebook page as we hear that just as the widow put her last penny in the offering box, we have something of value to offer up to the Lord- large or small. God loves the heart of the cheerful giver!

Reflection: Mark 10:17-22

To whom, exactly, are you speaking, Lord?
 I take it you're not saying this to me,
 But just to this rich man, or to some saint
 Like Francis, or to some community,
 The Benedictines, maybe, their restraint
 Sustains so much. But I can't bear this word!
 I bought the deal, the whole consumer thing,
 Signed up and filled my life with all this stuff,
 And now you come, when I've got everything,
 And tell me everything is not enough!
 But that one thing I lack, I cannot get.
 Sell everything I have? That's far too hard
 I can't just sell it all... at least not yet,
 To whom exactly, are you speaking, Lord?

-Malcolm Guite

"Next to the Word of God, Music Deserves the Highest Praise" -Martin Luther

Solomon Linda & The Evening \(The First Version \) - Mbube One of my pet nerdy facts is that "The Lion Sleeps Tonight" is based on this 1939 recording from South Africa, and that "wimoweh" is an Americanization of "mbube," the Zulu for lion (as far as I've been told). The song was used here without paying for the rights, and it took Solomon Linda's family decades to get paid for it.

Wiener Sangerknaben - The lion sleeps tonight Here is the famous Vienna Boys Choir singing "The Lion Sleeps Tonight" in Russia, some time ago. Very cute! I'm especially impressed at their ability to produce the "w" sound of "wimoweh," which not all German speakers can do. The calm joy of this song has really touched people around the world.
